

COLORADO BUSINESS

Denver Post
Business Section
Aug 16, 2005

- Hill Moving & Storage, based in Sheridan, has been named an agency of Atlas Van Lines Inc. It is now part of a network of more than 400 agencies.

- KB Home, based in Los Angeles, announced it will build an additional 146 homes in Stapleton, the largest urban infill project in the U.S. Located east of Stapleton's Central Park, Fillings 11 and 12 are known as the development's "Fourth Neighborhood."

- CTL|Thompson's Fort Collins branch received an accreditation from the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials in asphalt, aggregate and soil testing.

- DCB Construction Co., a Denver-based construction firm, was awarded Ball Corp.'s 34,500-square-foot addition to its existing container facility in Golden. Construction begins later this month and is scheduled for completion in December.

- All About Funding, based in Denver, said director Stan Carpenter was accredited by the Institute for Independent Business as a senior executive associate and business adviser in partnership with 3,000 senior executives and business owners worldwide.

- MicroPhage Inc., based in Longmont, and Thinc Pharmaceuticals, based in Aurora, were selected by The Biotechnology Industry Organization to present at the BIO Mid-America VentureForum.

The companies will join other promising early- to late-stage companies from across the country in presenting business plans to a national audience of venture capitalists.

- Inteck, a Denver-based information technology consulting firm for the health-care industry, said it will conduct two presentations at The Medical Users Software Exchange Western conference in New Orleans on Aug. 31 and Sept. 1.

- Conway Oil Co., based in Albuquerque with locations in Aurora, Colorado Springs and Fort Collins, retained NRC Realty Advisors, based in Chicago, to coordinate the sale of three of Conway's convenience store/gasoline station businesses. All three are jointly operated with McDonald's restaurants.